President's Letter

Dear OSHE Members,

Thank you to all the professional & associate members that attended the 2019 spring conference in Bend. We had a wonderful turnout with great presentations. All of us on the OSHE board serve our members by providing a place to increase our knowledge, connect with our peers, exchange information and ideas, and learn about new and exciting products that will help us with healthcare engineering. A fun and relaxing environment gives us a break from outside worries and makes peer bonding and information exchange easier. Our jobs can be very stressful, but educational conferences should provide a break from that stress.

When attending OSHE conferences, each one of us must hold ourselves to high standards of professional ethics. Everyone who attends OSHE conferences is entitled to an environment that is free from harassment, bullying, or discrimination. The OSHE board will make every effort to ensure that each person feels safe and respected when attending conferences and events.

A commitment to high ethical standards of behavior is critical to our success at each conference. Please help us in our efforts to maintain a respectful and positive environment.

Thank You,
Sean Reyburn
OSHE President
